Dm - G - C - walk to Am - Dm - G - C

C                    Am                    Dm                    G7
In the early mist of morning, the dreamers sleep entwined.

C                    Am                    Dm                    G
The rooster cries a warning: the sun is soon to shine.

Dm                    G7                                    C                    (walk)                    Am and melt away a vision fey, Dreamers rise and start the day.

Dm                                    G                                    C
to serve for Northshield's honor, Ducere!

Dm   G7                                    C                                    Am
Chorus:        With these hands, which till the field and sow

Dm   G                                    C                                    Cmaj9
                  These hands, provide so it will grow

Dm   G7                                    Dm                    (walk)                    G7
                  And these hands, they serve to bring to birth

Dm                                    G                                    C
                  This beautiful dream upon the earth.

My voice it speaks to power, with breath and teeth and tongue.
And by it marks the hour, each truth that I have sung to manifest a future blessed, with love in all we do.
Together we can make this vision true!

(Chorus)

In our youth we dreamt of freedom, we toiled to make it true.
Our knowledge, strength and wisdom, expanding as we grew.
We made a place with joy and grace, where all are welcome home
And lead the way to set the dream in stone.

(Chorus)

As we look into the future, think what more can we do
To keep the dream and nurture, our young to dream anew
To lead the way into the fray, Dreamers rise and start the day to serve for Northshield's honor, Ducere!

(Chorus)
